INTRODUCTION :-

on the 6th February 2020 along with my course mates we went for a field visit which organised by our philosophy department of Kumar Bhaskar Varma Sanskrit and Ancient Studies University, Nalbari. we visit to Manas National park.

Manas national park is situated in the state of Assam which is in the northeast of India. It lies at the foothills of the Himalayas and the region is one of the main biodiversity hotspots of India. Manas was initially a reserved forest but the Forest Policy Act of 1952 held the poor responsible for deforestation and stated that national forests should be used to produce timber for industry and commerce, not
